Mom, today,
I want to have Fun!

Well, maybe you could find someone to play with.

Hey, there's a squirrel!

Eek!

Woof, Woof!

Eek!

Woof, Woof!

Eek!

Woof,
Woof!

A cartoon illustration of a dog barking at a squirrel on a fence. The dog is white with brown spots and a brown collar with a yellow bell, running on a green lawn. A speech bubble above the dog says "Woof, Woof!". In the background, a tan wooden fence runs across the middle. On top of the fence, a grey squirrel is perched on a green bush. A speech bubble above the squirrel says "Eek!". Behind the fence, a house with a red roof and a window is visible against a light blue sky.

Eek!

Woof, Woof!

That wasn't fun
at all!

That was fun!

Let's play fetch!

Get the stick!
Get the stick!

I've got
the stick!

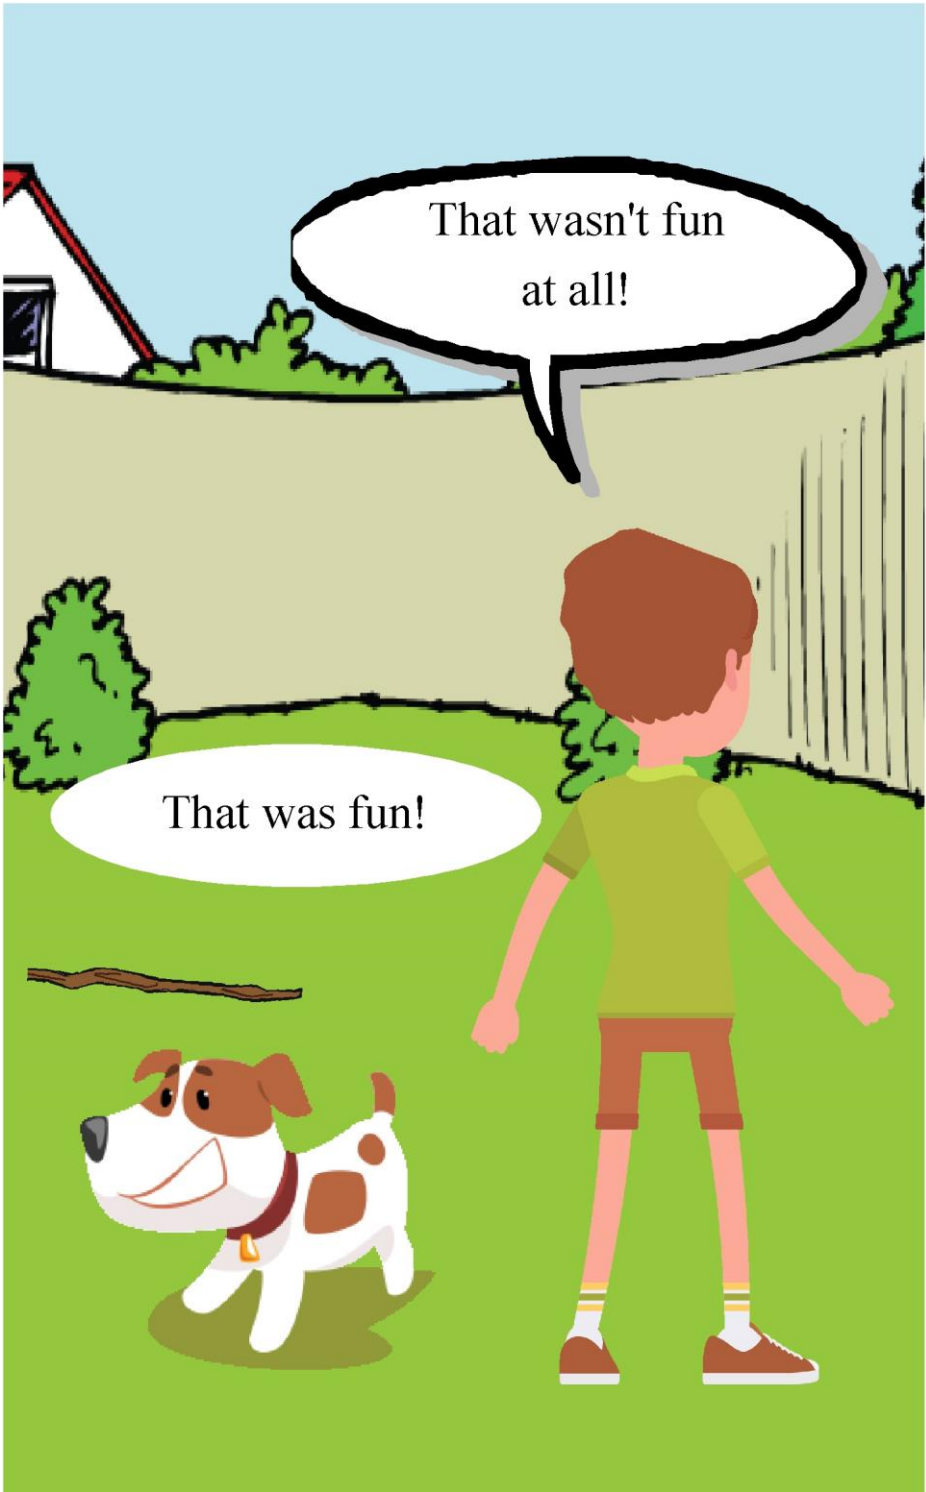

Give me the stick, boy.

Come back with the stick!

Give me the stick, boy!

That wasn't fun
at all!

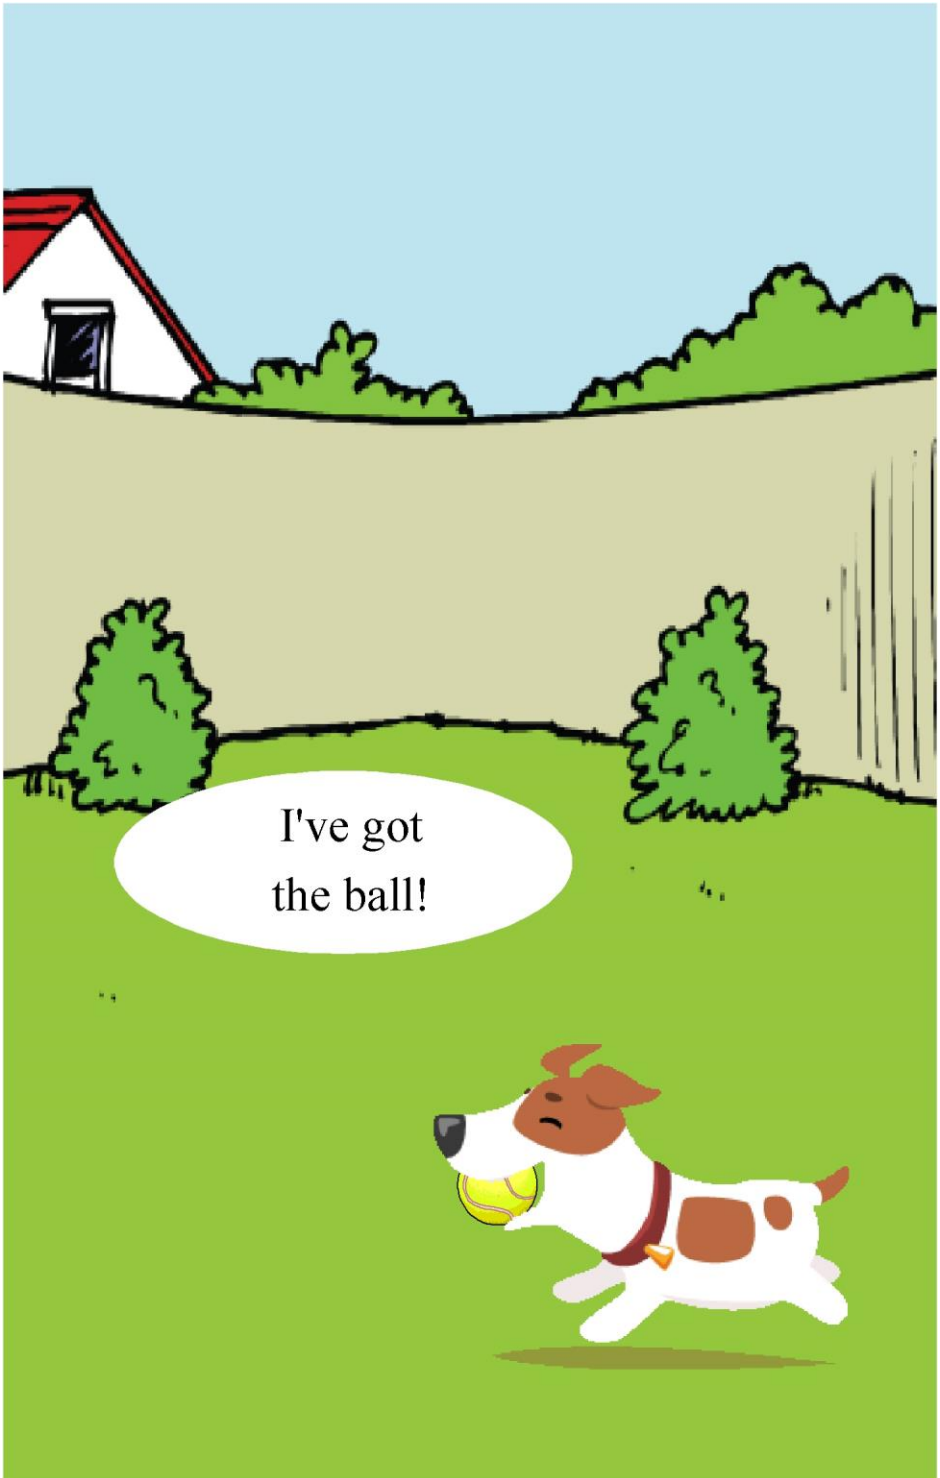

That was fun!

I'll just practice
in the back yard.

Huh?

I've got
the ball!

Hey, come back with the ball!

This isn't fun
at all!

This is fun!

Why won't anyone
play with me?

Well, what did you do to make sure that others
had fun when they played with you yesterday?

Nothing. I think I made them mad.

Today, try to do something that others will find fun to do also!

Look, the squirrel is back.

Squeak?

Woof?

Squeak?

Woof?

Squeak?

Woof?

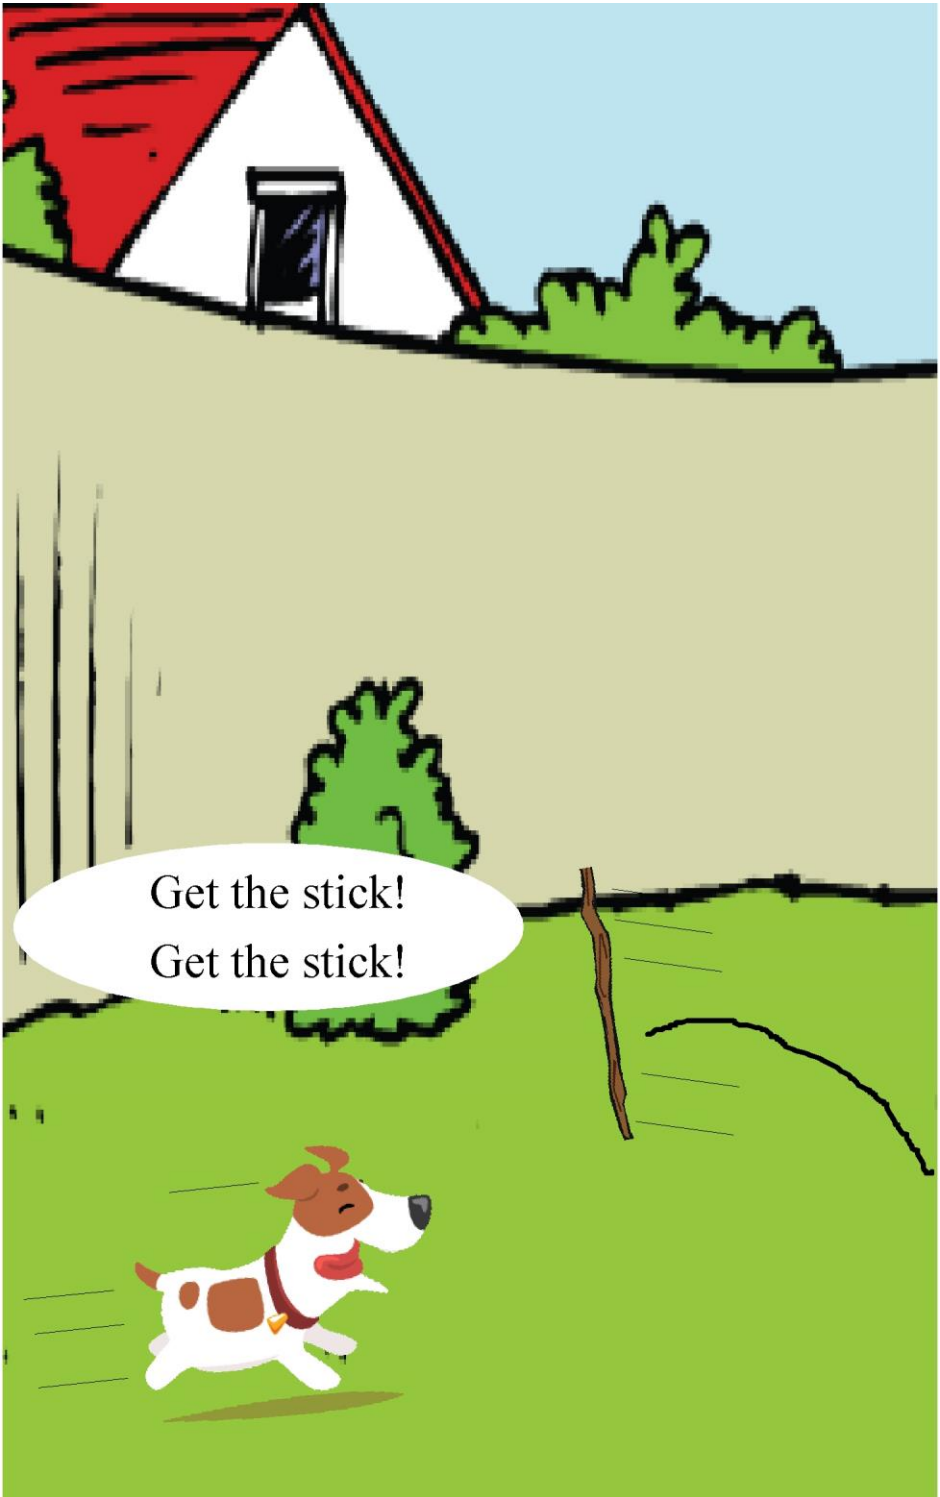

That was fun.

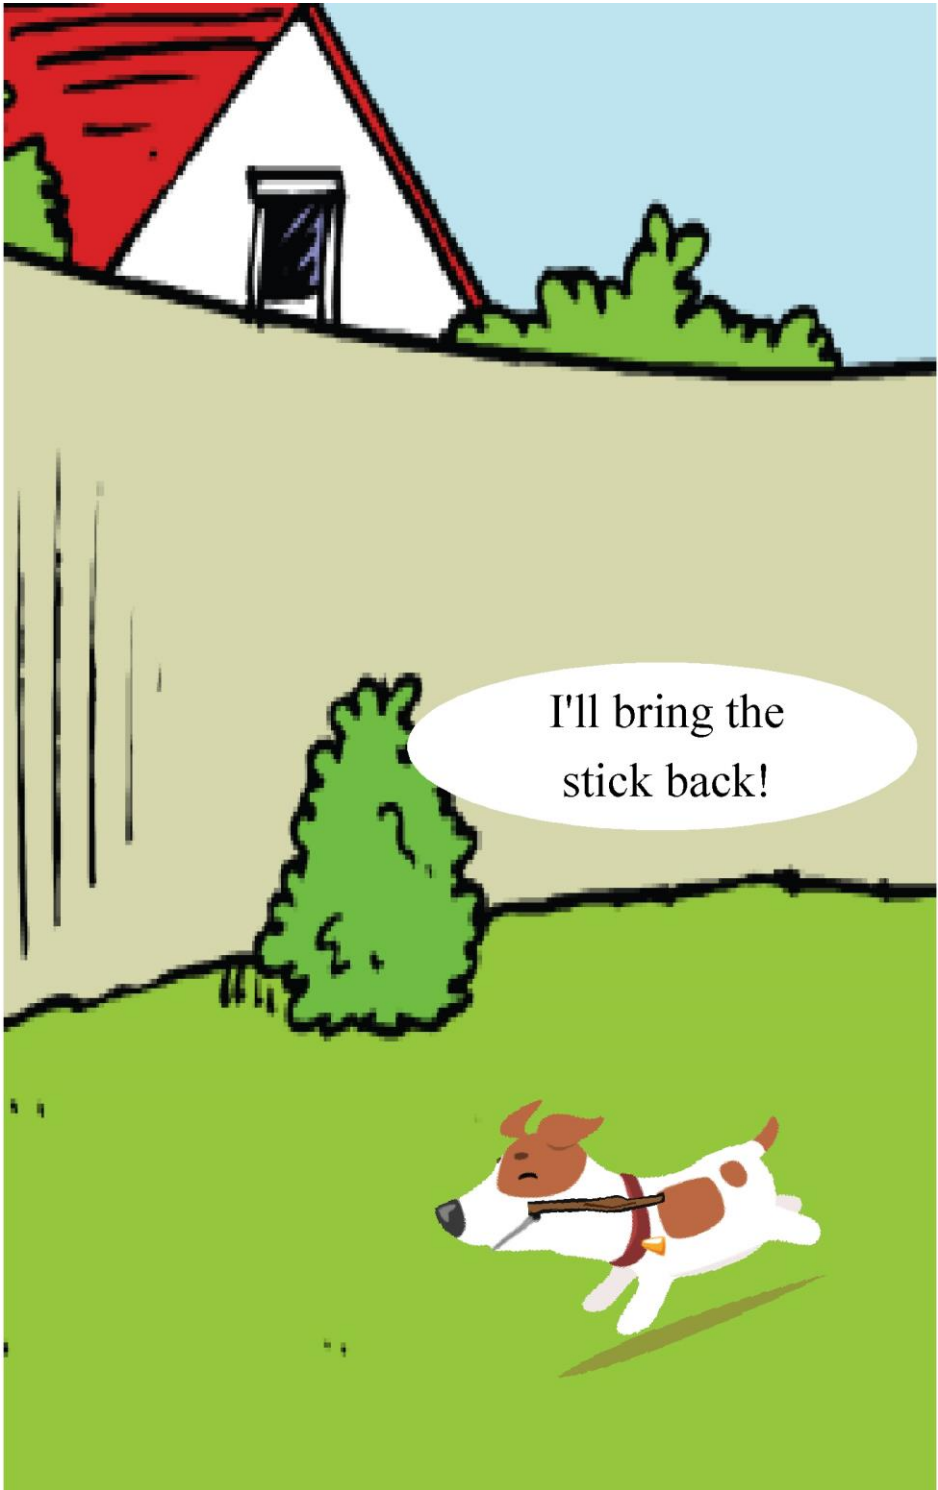

That was fun.

Let's try this again.

Get the stick!
Get the stick!

I'll bring the stick back!

Good boy,
fetch again!

That was a lot of fun!

That was fun!

I don't see the dog, I'll try this agian.

Oh, No!

I've got the ball,
I'll bring it back.

Good boy!
Thank you.

Can you get the ball again?

That was fun!

That was fun!

Mom, playing is so much better when I try to let everyone have fun!

I'm glad you learned how to play with others to have more fun!

We hope that you have enjoyed this little book.
